REMINISCENCE OF SCHENLEY PARK

Why General O'Hara Wanted to Make a Gift of These Lands.

A MANUFACTURER'S DREAD OF A BOOM

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, TUESDAY, November 5, 1889.

Among the visitors at the Grain Exchange to-day were Messrs, J. D. Thayer, of Warsaw, Ind., and J. W. Thompson, of Leesburg, Ind., both operators in grain and hay. Mr. Thayer was formerly a grain dealer in this city. Concerning crops in Northern Indiana, he said:

"The yield of potatoes was never before so large. From one little station near Warsaw 1,000 bushels of potatoes were shipped to Pittsburg the past month. The crop of outs is also extra large and quality very fine. The price which farmers receive for their oats in Warsaw is 18 to 20 cents per bushel, and at

"Trade is very quiet in our section, there being an over abundance of stuff and scarcity of money. We find it best to ship our grain and produce East, as markets are better this way than in Chicago. But shippers of potatoes to Pittsburg this season have found poor pickings. Freight bills are up most of the profits. Northern Indiana has never enjoyed a more bountiful season, taken altogether, than that just closed, but the great trouble is to get anything for the stuff. We have had much more profitable seasons when the crops were much lighter and poorer in quality." A Real Estate Item.

The following is communicated by Mr. ! Chadwick, a Twenty-first ward dairyman: "The lands which Mrs. Schenley has donated to the city for park purposes were at the beginning of this century the property of her grand-father, General O'Hara, one time Quarterfather, General O'Hara, one time Quartermaster at Ft. Pitt. General O'Hara had a great mania for real estate, and was most of his life what would be called land poor, finding it oftentimes difficult to pay his taxes, which were hardly as large those days as now. During the tight times following the war of 1812 the tax question became a very serious one. The father of Mr. S. Chadwick was the owner of a farm at Oakland joining the Squirrel Hill tract of General O'Hara. The latter at one time offered his possessions in that section to time offered his possessions in that section to the senior Chadwick on condition that he would assume the tax encumbrance.

Change Twixt New and Then. "General O'Hara passed away in 1819. From the close of the Revolutionary War until his death he was the foremost real estate owner of this city and vicinity. His faith in Pittsburg's this city and vicinity. His faith in Pittsburg's future must have been very large, but as is so often the case, others reaped where he so patiently sowed. It is a coincidence, that the property which three-quarters of a century ago was offered as gift to the man who would pay the taxes is now given to the city without money and without price by a descendant, when its value is measured by millions." True Prosperity.

A representative of one of our great iron ies, which turns out a specialty, said today that business in their line was never before well worth quoting. Said he: "I have known seasons when profits were three times as large as they are now, on the tonnage. But we are as they are now, on the tonnage. But we are now able to turn out a much larger amount of products and have a ready market for it all. From 1870 to 1883 we had a great boom, which in the end proved disastrous, for things kept climbing up until a collapse came, and there followed aftew years of dull trade. The present condition of things is much letter for us and all than the high kitting which will inevitably bring a reaction. If business will int keep bring a reaction. If business will just keep along as it is without any further boom I will be entirely satisfied. What is most to be dreaded new is another boom, and already there are omens of this in some lines of busi-

J. H. Rylance, of St. Mark's Protestant Epsecopal Church, New York City, has brought suit for libel and conspiracy against Nicholas Quackenbos and W. V. King, prominent members of his congregation, for accusing him of too free conduct toward certain ladies, and with associating with infidel members of the Nineteenth Century Club. When the charges were first made Dr. Rylance resigned, as he says, in angor, but on reconsideration, he with drew his resignation and proposes to fight his accusers in the courts. St. Mark's is one of the oldest and most fashionable churches in the city, and Dr. Rylance has a high reputation for eloquence and originality.

for eloquence and originality.

—Charleston's great earthquake festival opened Monday with cloudless skies and charming weather. The public buildings, private residences and commercial houses were bedecked with flags and bunting from one end of the city to the other. About 100,000 United States flags were displayed, and not a Confederate flag was in sight. King street last night presented a fairy picture with its triumphal arches, illuminated show windows, swinging Chinese lanterns, gay throngs of sight-seers, bands of music and military parades of both white and colored troops. There was also a grand pyrotechnic display on Colonial lake, with a mimic attack of the Federal fleet on Fort Sunter.

—A balloon alighting in the vicinity of Sherman, six miles north of Springfield, Ill., created something of a sensation in that quiet neighborhood. Two men leaped from the basket as the balloon reached the carth. They were Mr. Baldwin, the Quincy aeromant, and Isaac N. Morris, a Quincy reporter. They started from that city at 12:15 P. M. The wind at first carried them in a southwesterly direction, but as athey ascended they passed into another current that carried them almost directly eastward. They were in the air 4 hours and 15 minutes. The distance between Quincy and Springfield on a direct line is about 100 miles. The highest altitude reaches was 16,000 feet. They could still see the Misaissippi river when over half way to Springfield.

About a year ago John F. Park Cautioned to Go Slow.

MARVELOUS GOLD FIELDS IN AFRICA Although yesterday was an "off day" in a business sense, the Exchange being closed, transactions in the regular lines of trade were nearly as heavy as usual, what was lacking in one branch being made up in The talk among stock brokers as they sat in their offices or gathered in little groups on the streets, was hopeful, not only of an improvement in values, but of a more active market during the rest of the year, their reasons being that all danger of a monetary stringency has vanished, and that a large number of investors who unloaded natural gas etocks during the recent panic will soon be wanting to get them back. Another element of confidence in that future is the probability of an active demand for electric and the Tractions, of which there are several encourag ing symptoms.

Operators in petroleum were divided in opin-ion as to the future course of the market. While some insisted that statistics of demand and supply were a sufficient warrant for a further advance, others were less confident, and pointed to former experiences under similar circumstances to strengthen their position. One of the latter voiced the sentiment of many others when he said: "If it be true, as reported from New York, that the Standard is manipuating the market, we may give up all hope, not only of a further advance, but of being able to hold prices where they are. By permitting crude to reach a respectable figure the mo-nopoly has brought refined up to a high price, where it will probably hold for some time, not-withstanding a decline in crude, on the principle that it is easier to make than to break rices. When the Standard wants cheap oil it always finds a way to get it. "Another element of uncertainty is the Ohio product. There are reports that it is being refined and made equal to Pennsylvania oil. Indeed, two of the heaviest refiners of Ohio oil, both of them millionaires, offer to guarantee every gallon sold by them, to be equal to any in the market, and they say they will soon be able

The certainty of a handsome park in the East End, the gift of Mrs. Schenley, has, it is stated, induced holders of adjoining property to put up prices, in some cases to double what they were before. Should this disposition become general, it will retard the settlement of that district, as buyers are in no humor to pay fancy prices, even for the sake of the comfort to be derived from such a breathing spot as it is proposed to make there, Said a Fourth avenue agent: "The natural effect of a park out there will be to stiffen prices, but holders should not be too greedy

The latest theory is that the real Ophir is in Mashuna land. But it may be noted that Ophir is always moved along to the richest mines that are found. However, on the theory that Solomon procured his gold for the temple from the southwest coast of Africa, Ophir might as well be located in the mysterious Mashuna land as elsewhere until the next famous discovery is made in Africa.

Architect John W. Barr is reported in the Real Estate Record and Business Guide as saying; "The evidence of the steady and sub-stantial growth of the city, and of the increasing wealth of our people, is seen in the elegant public buildings, fine business houses and beautiful residences. There is considerable agitation among English traders and manufacturers for relief from what their spokesmen characterize as extor-tionate freight charges imposed by the railway companies. A number of meetings have lately been held at some of the more important com mercial centers advocating more vigorous action on the part of the merchants and manu-facturers than has yet been taken. They appear determined new to secure, if possible, parliamentary supervision of freight charges. The recent course of railway legislation in the United States has evidently had its effect in stirring up the movement. The situation is as Reports from all the interior wool markets indicate increasing strength and activity. Purchases have been made at San Antonio above the Eastern valuation. An advance is also noted in California, and in St. Louis and Chicago trade is increasing in volume, while prices are firm. Manufacturers are also buy-ing more freely at Boston, New York and Philadelphia, though quotations can hardly be said to have advanced. The only difficulty with the market is found in the conditions and prospects of the trade in woolen goods. The mills are working on very small margins, and the outlook for the coming season is not par-ticularly encouraging. Wool is, therefore, bought for future use more on account of the prevailing strength in the country and in Europe and Australia than because of immediate profits from conversion into fabrics. Dispatches from Melbourne mention purchases by European dealers at decidedly higher prices than American buyers can afford to pay.

More wool is going out from the Boston store

ouses to the New England mills than for some time past, and the market may be characterized as steady. Perhaps the most noteworthy item is an increased demand for medium wools. Fine fleeces are in moderate request, and there is a very good inquiry for ter-ritory supplies of all descriptions. Something is doing in new super-pulled wool, an improvement in the quality of which is very noticeable

A London cable says: Most of the gold coming here has been going away again. There are reports that a large amount will be withdrawn from the Bank of England early next week for Brazil, but in well-informed quarters it is asserted that most of the sums required will be supplied by the Bank of France. Further, the rates of interest and discount are now much larger in Berlin than in London. The German exchange upon London is in consequence moving very nearly to the point at which gold can be shipped from here to Berlin. And already the withdrawals of coin for Scotland are beginning.

About the end of November every year from half a million to three-quarters of a million stering is withdrawn from Scotland, but this year withdrawals are beginning much earlier than usual, and are expected to be on an exceptionally large scale. Trade is exceedingly active in Scotland, and it is thought probable that much less will come back again in December than ordinarily does return. Still the belief is strong and general in the market that the great financial houses will leave nothing undone to make the market easy for the rest of the year.

A telegram from the City of Mexico states that on October 24 the Mexican Secretary of the Treasury concluded a banking agreement with Mr. Saivator Malo, representing a London syndicate. The Mexican National Monte de Piedad held a concession from the Government for a bank of issue, and after operating the bank for some years it suddenly collapsed. An English syndicate has taken the concession, and will promptly commence operations as a bank of issue.

A SAD SEA ROMANCE.

Sorrowful Ending of a Honeymoon That Had Been Very Pleasant. NEW YORK, November 5 .- Five cast-away sailormen, rescued from the Jennie Rosaline by some brave fellows of the schooner Flora Rodgers, and landed at Charleston on Sunday, brought the saddest tale yet told of the fearful havoc wrought by October's last gale. Their Captain, William E. Barlow, 25 years old, married a few months ago Lottie Wicks, of Port Jefferson, L. I., to the whites. But the latter are pushing on to a daughter of Captain Clark Wicks, these mines. If the gold is there, it may be as-Decker. The Jennie Rosaline was a large three-masted schooner, with a comfortable cabin, and the young wife, anxious to be near her husband, told him, as many another brave woman has done, reared by the seashore, that she was a good saflor and could make the cabin her home. So the summer trips of the Jennie Rosaline proved a happy honeymoon for the young couple.

It was arranged that after this trip to Charleston the young wife should stay ashore during the winter. But during the gale she and her husband were swept overboard from the water-logged schooner's deck and drowned.

THE WISHART DETECTIVES. General Blakely and Attorney Yost Have a

Lumb-Like Tilt.

The taking of testimony before Commiss

Herron in the case of the petition of M. W. Wishart, E. P. Hesser and D. P. Young, for the dismissal of the forfeited bonds in the cases charging them before Alderman McNulty with acting as detectives without a license, was commenced yesterday afternoon. J. W. Houston was the bondsman of each in the sum of $500, and the bond was declared forfeited for their non-appearance before the Aiderman.
John A. Martin is the prosecutor on the bonds, and was represented yesterday by General Blakely. Attorney Yost appearing for the petitioners. The main point in dispute is a question of fact as to an alleged understanding that the hearing was to have been postponed. Wishart, Young and Hesser claimed that the Alderman had agreed to postpone the hearing, and they went at the time fixed. He was not in his office, and a note was ciaimed that the Aiderman had agreed to pospone the hearing, and they went at the time fixed. He was not in his office, and a note was left for him with his office boy. They received word afterward that their bail had been forfeited. They recoived a hearing afterward, were held for court, tried and acquitted. Alderman McNulty, on the other hand, claims that they was no arrangement for a postpone. derman McNulty, on the other hand, claims that there was no arrangement for a postponement of the hearing, and that he received no note. The witnesses examined vesterday were Wishart, Young, Hesser and Houston, and the hearing was continued until to-day.

During the examination of Mr. Young a tilt occurred between General Blakely and Mr. Yost. Young spoke to Mr. Yost, and the latter leaned toward him. General Blakely and to Mr. Yost talking to the witness. Mr. Yost replied that he had said nothing to the witness. General Blakely persisted that he had, and Mr. Yost denied it. "Tis false," said Mr. Yost. "Tis not false," exclaimed General Blakely.

Blakely.

The dispute was included in the testimony.
General Blakely insisting upon some points in it, Mr. Yost said: "That shows what kind of a man you are."

"There's no trouble about the kind of a man you are," replied General Blakely, and the case went on.

mon Pleas No. 2. The suit was an action on a mortgage.

The appeal of Elizabeth McCaully from the Orphans' Court in the matter of the will of Margaret McDonald was argued. The appellant was the sister of Mrs. McDonald, who died in Ireland, leaving her estate to her husband. Mrs. McCaully contested the will, alleging that it had been procured by undue influence. Also that the original will should be probated in Allecheny County, and not in Ireland where it was filed, a copy being admitted here and sustained.

THE MISSING CHECK.

Another Hearing Minus Richness in the Nesbitt Divorce Case. The Nesbitt divorce inquiry was continued before Commissioner Cornelius yesterday after-noon. Mr. Nesbitt was again on the stand and questioned by Mr. Bruce. The questions were all relative to the deposit of the check for $300, which was alleged to have been given to the wife to purchase the wedding outfit, Mr. Nesbitt in answer to questions stated that the Nesbitt in answer to questions stated that the check was drawn, "pay to self," and was deposited in the Diamond Bank. He deposited the money. The check he has not seen since his wife left the house. The check was in his bank book, and was kept in a drawer in the dressing case. He has looked for the check, but can't find it anywhere. Another session will be held on Tuesday next, at 3 o'clock.

St. Louis New Seems to Be the Scene of Their Operations-Preparations for the Anniversary of the Chicago Execution.

Sr. Louis, November, 5.—On Saturday and Sunday evenings the Anarchists in this city will hold meetings to commemorate the death of their brother Anarchists in Chicago in 1887. The meetings will be held in workingmen's Hall, the object being to keep alive in the minds of the Anarchista beep nearly a vest are, and po sign of any re-

The circular recently issued and extracts of which were sent to THE DISPATCH, is still attracting great attention. The circular is one of the most venomous and radical ever published, and was printed recently in New York for St. Louis Anarchists, and has been distributed all over the country, thousands of copies having been scattered in this city.

The writer admits that the men who suf-fered death in Chicago were Anarchists, Communists, Atheists and "soldiers of the Revolution." The circular concludes by calling on Anarchists, Socialists, Trades Unionists, Knights of Labor, turners, free thinkers and citizens to seize the opportun-ity offered on November 11, to divide good and evil into two camps, and to rally under the standard of social revolution.
